

FakeSMS : User Guide

1 - What is FakeSMS

FakeSMS is an app that gives you the opportunity to make some jokes to your friends. Simply create fake SMS conversations from fake contacts (eg : Barrack Obama). You can avoid a party or a meeting by showing a fake SMS from one of your parent, or let your friends think that you're talking to a celebrity.

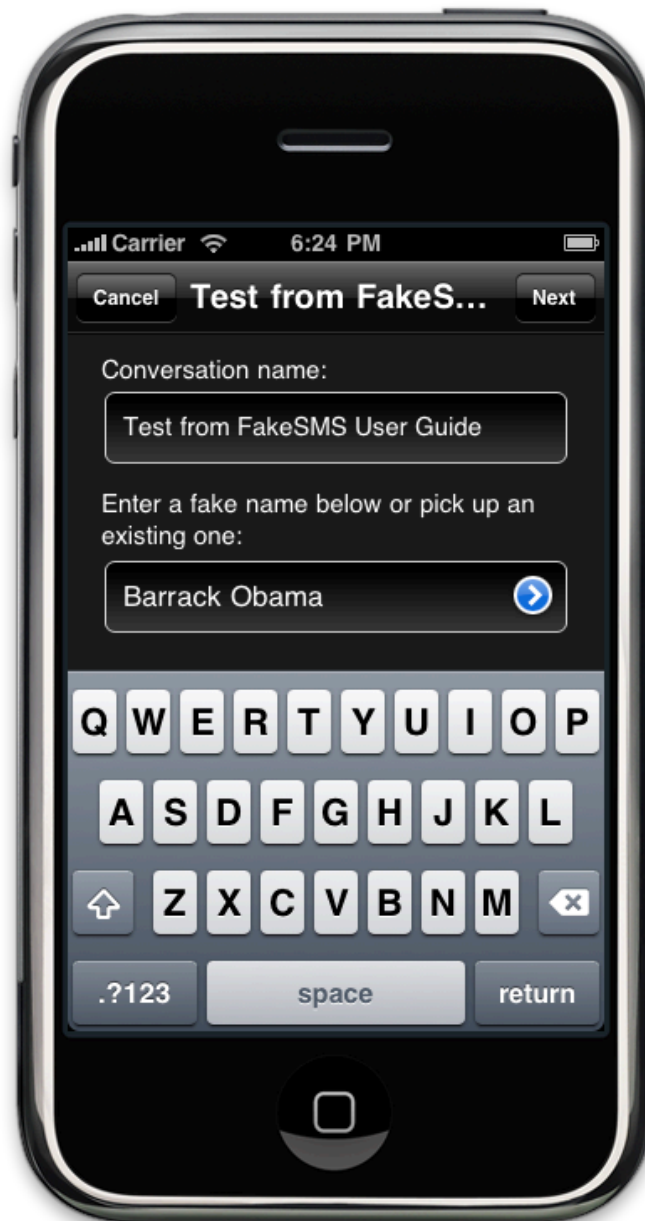

2 - Create a fake conversation

When FakeSMS is launched, there's a configuration panel showing some options. Simply choose "Create a fake conversation"

Once pushed, you have to complete 2 steps.

First, fill the conversation name, and the fake contact name fields.

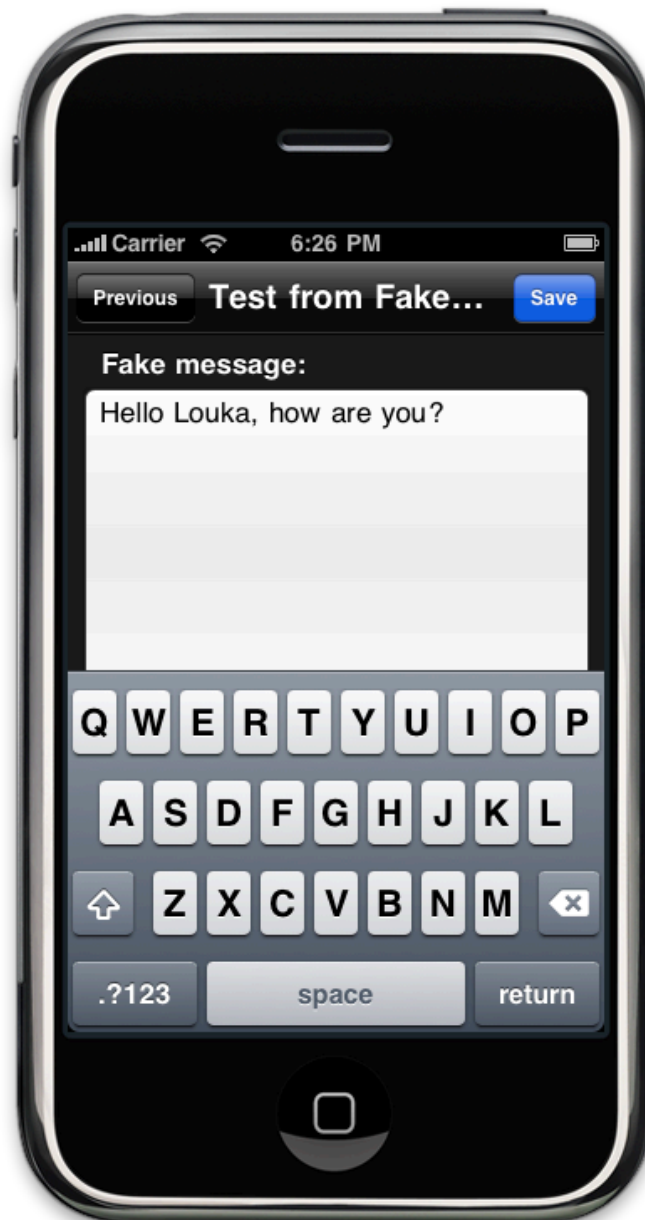

If you push the arrow located on the right of the fake contact name field, you can :

- Pick a fake contact directly from the FakeSMS fake contacts list
- Pick a contact from your iPhone

If you wish to create a new fake contact, simply fill the empty field.

Once all fields are filled, push the "Next" button.

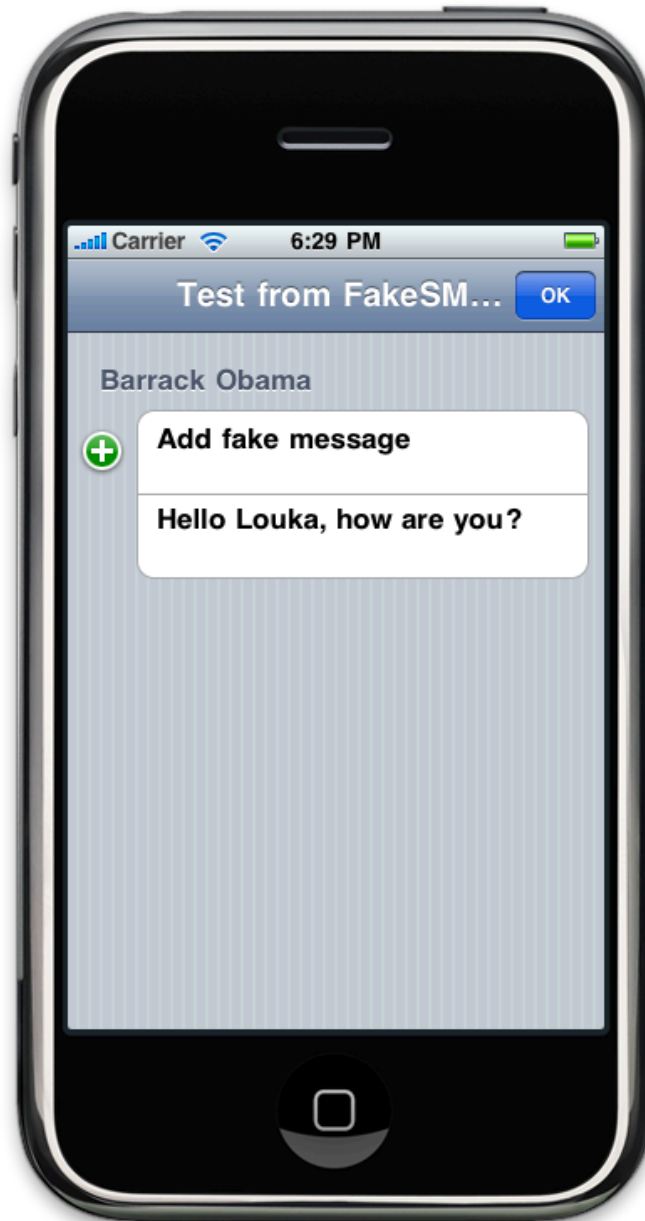

Now you can create a fake message. This will be the first message that your fake contact will send to you.

Push the “Save” button, and you’re done with your new conversation!
Now, let’s add a few more messages.

3 - Add new messages to a fake conversation

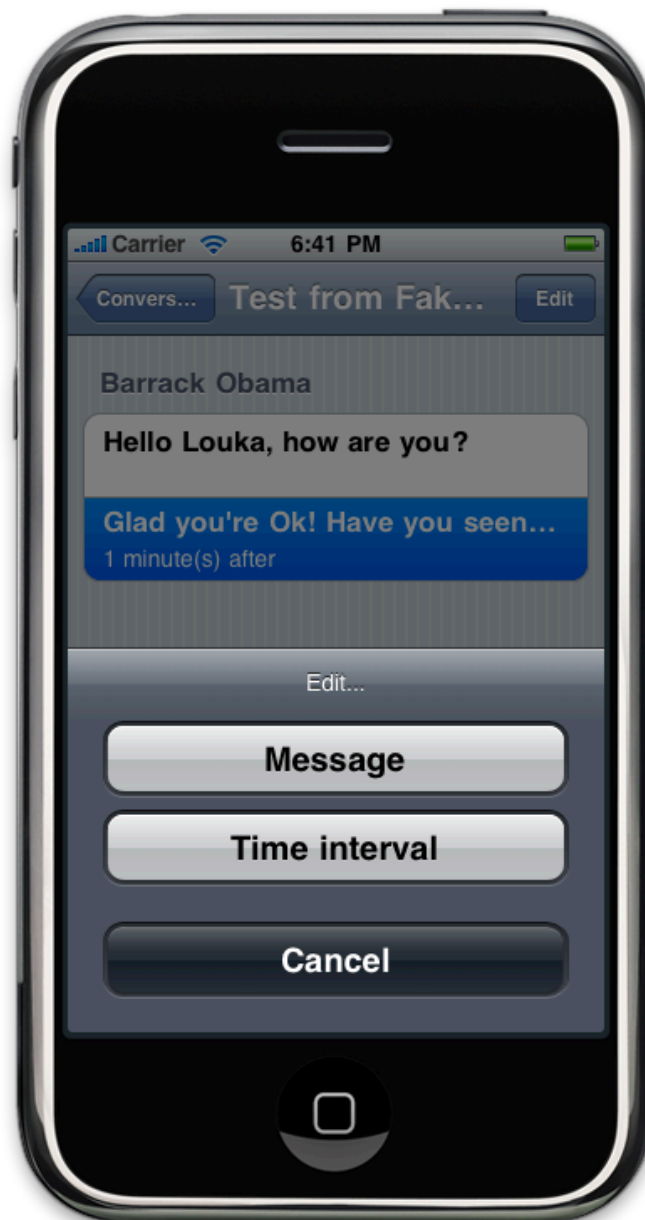

Once the new conversation is saved, you are redirected to the conversation messages list. If you want to add new messages, simply hit “Edit” button and push “Add fake message”.

FakeSMS should now ask you for a Time Interval. This time interval is simply the elapsed time between the previous fake SMS that has been sent by the bot and the next one. For example, if you choose 1 minute time interval, this new SMS will be sent 1 minute after the latest SMS sent by the bot.

Once done, push the “Next” button, and once again, type the new SMS that should be sent by the fake contact, and push “Save”.

You can add as many SMS as you want. You can also re-ordering them, and modify the time interval or the SMS text by simply touching them.

Once you think there's enough messages for a fake SMS conversation, let's learn how to start a fake one!

4 - Start a fake conversation

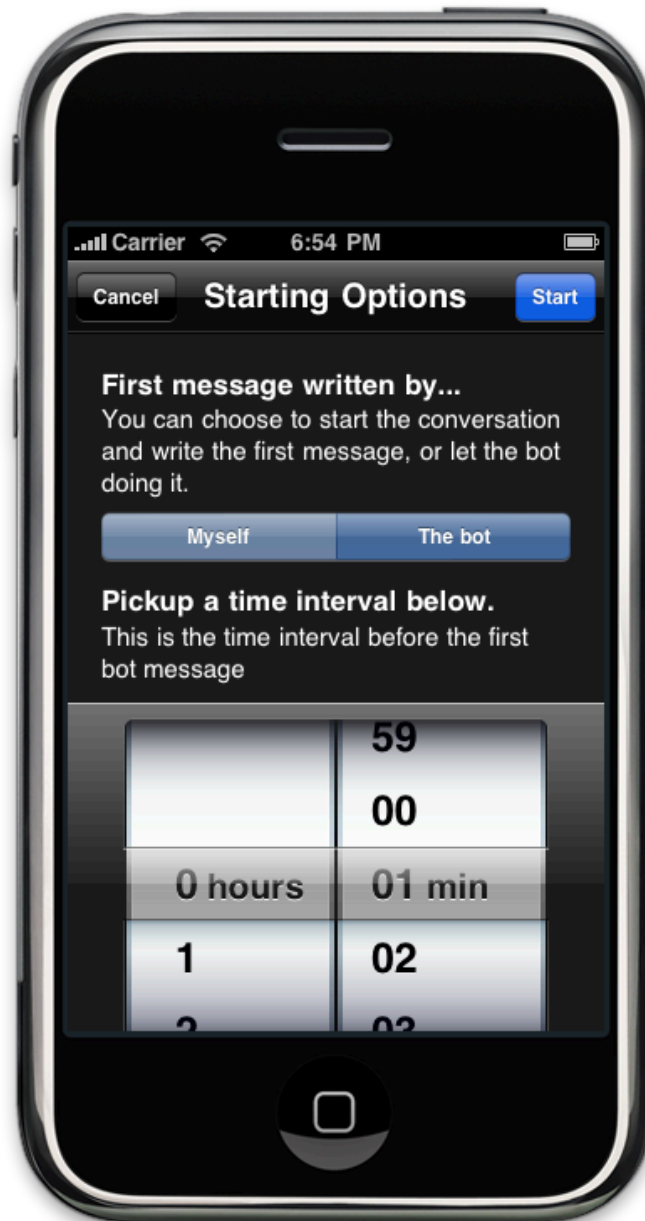

Now go back to the main configuration panel, and push “Start a fake conversation”.

All conversations you have created appear on the screen, simply push the one you want to start

The “Starting Options” appears. This one allows you to simply choose who should start the conversation :

- You : Simply write the first SMS to your fake contact.
- The bot : Let the bot send the first SMS.

Once you made your choice, choose a time interval. As explained on the panel, this is the time interval before the first bot message is sent.

We chose to let the bot start the conversation.

Push “Start”, and you will be redirected to a fake Springboard. Simply wait for the first message to be sent.

Push “Show”, and simply answer to your fake contact.
Here, I’ve answered “I’m fine.” and I’m waiting for his answer.

4 - Some other things you should know

- If you want to bring back the Configuration panel, simply shake your iPhone, and push the i bubble on the bottom-right of the screen. It only works when you're in the SMS list view.
- If you want to simulate a fake springboard while waiting for another SMS, simply push the Camera button while you're in a SMS view.
- Don't forget that you can manage your fake contacts and fake conversations.

Thanks, and Enjoy!
